5. LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

The following is the text of a letter received by the Issuing Houses from Mr. Aigboje Aig-Imoukhuede, CFR the Chairman of Access Holdings Plc.

Access Holdings Plc
Plot 14/15 Prince Alaba Oniru Street
Oniru Estate
Victoria Island
Lagos

July 2, 2024

To: All Shareholders of Access Holdings Plc

Dear Sir/Madam,

RIGHTS ISSUE OF 17,772,612,811 ORDINARY SHARES OF ₦0.50 EACH AT ₦19.75 PER SHARE

1. Introduction

At the Annual General Meeting ("AGM") of the Corporation, which was duly convened and held on April 19, 2024 - the Shareholders authorised the Board of Directors to raise equity capital for the Corporation by way of a Rights Issue on such terms and conditions as may be determined by the Board, subject to obtaining the approvals of the relevant regulatory authorities ("Rights Issue").

Following your authorisation to raise capital and after careful deliberations by the Directors, I am delighted to inform you that the Board of Directors - pursuant to the board resolution dated June 4, 2024 - approved the issuance of additional 17,772,612,811 Ordinary Shares of ₦0.50 each by way of a Rights Issue to Existing Shareholders on the basis of 1 new Ordinary Share for every 2 Ordinary Shares held as at the close of business on June 7, 2024, at a price of ₦19.75 per share.

The requisite approvals have been sought and obtained from the Central Bank of Nigeria, Securities and Exchange Commission and NGX Regulation Limited for opening the Issue. The Acceptance List for the Rights Issue will open on July 8, 2024 and close on August 14, 2024. Instructions for taking up your rights are contained in the provisional allotment letter by the Company Secretary on page 54 of this Rights Circular.

This letter sets out the strategic rationale for the Rights Issue and outlines the Board's view that the transaction is in the best interest of Access Holdings Plc and therefore, the Shareholders. Access Holdings continues to improve on its strong foundation of operational and financial excellence. I am pleased to inform you that the results from the Group's recently release year-end 2023 audited financials show a robust 307% growth in profit after tax to ₦619.32 billion, despite the challenging economic and regulatory operating environment. This positive indicator signals the success of our African expansion strategy, as we continue our journey to building a globally connected community and ecosystem inspired by Africa for the world.

Despite the challenging macroeconomic environment and unprecedented macroeconomic pressures, gross earnings increased 87% year-on-year for the period ended December 2023. I am confident that management is on track to drive the business aggressively for the benefit of all stakeholders, particularly the Shareholders. Further supporting this view is the proposed Rights Issue, the proceeds of which will be applied to strengthen Access Bank's fortress balance sheet and support its growth in Nigeria, and across the sub-Saharan African region.

2. Rationale for the Rights Issue

Access Holdings continues to anticipate the possible risks and headwinds that it may face in the near to mid-term. These are split into risks to the entire banking and financial services sector and risks specific to Access Holdings. Risks to the banking and financial services sector include the global trend of rising interest rates resulting from ever-tightening monetary policy, increased loan defaults, and falling securities prices. Foreign currency risks remain a key potential risk specific to Access Holdings. Having identified these potential risks and in line with its 5-year capital plan, the Corporation seeks to strengthen its capital comfort buffers above regulatory limits to reduce the impact of any unexpected macroeconomic and regulatory changes. The Corporation has strong risk management teams dedicated to monitoring all its identified risks and exposures.

In addition, as we pursue our strategic objectives, we will continue to work with the regulators in the markets where we operate. As you may be aware, the CBN through its March 2024 Circular increased the capital (sum of paid-up ordinary share capital and share premium) requirements for different categories of banks in Nigeria. The capital base of banks with international authorization was increased to ₦500 billion. Access Holdings solely intends that the Bank would meet the capital requirement as stipulated by the CBN.

3. Use of Proceeds

The proceeds from the Issue will be used to (i) enhance Access Bank's capital adequacy, in compliance with the regulatory capital requirements, thereby deepening the Bank's ability to withstand systemic shocks, and (ii) strengthen the Bank's fortress balance sheet, allowing it to meet its and other banking subsidiaries' growth needs, in line with the Group's medium-term strategic objectives.

4. Principal terms of the Rights Issue

The Corporation is offering 17,772,612,811 new Ordinary Shares by way of a Rights Issue at ₦19.75 per share and based on a ratio of 1 new Ordinary Share for every 2 Ordinary Shares as of the Qualification Date. These shares are being offered to Shareholders only and are expected to raise ₦343,091,495,029.73 (net of expenses).

The Issue Price represents a:

- discount of approximately 19% to the Closing Price of ₦24.50 on March 28, 2024.
- discount of approximately 21% to the 90-day VWAP of ₦25.03 on March 28, 2024.

The Rights Issue will result in 17,772,612,811 new Ordinary Shares being issued, which will rank pari passu (equally) with existing Ordinary Shares of the Corporation in all respects, including the right to receive dividends declared after the date of issue, provided that the qualification date for the dividend (or any other distribution) declared is after the allotment of the Shares issued under this Rights Issue.

The Shares issued will also be tradable by Shareholders on the floor of the Nigerian Exchange during the Offer period. Shareholders who wish to trade their Rights should seek advice from their respective stockbrokers, who will guide the process.

5. Conclusion

By accepting your Rights, you will be making a strong statement regarding your commitment to ensuring that Access Holdings is well-positioned to achieve its strategic growth objectives. I therefore strongly recommend that you take advantage of the opportunities presented by this Rights Issue.

The Board of Directors strongly recommends that Shareholders take up their Rights in full.

Yours faithfully,

Aigboje Aig-Imokhuede, CFR
Chairman

11. RISK FACTORS

Accepting shareholders should consider all the information in this Rights Circular, including the following risk factors, before deciding to accept delivery of the new shares. If the risks described below materialise, the Issuer's business, results of operations, financial condition and/or prospects could be materially adversely affected, which could cause the value and trading price of its ordinary shares to decline, resulting in a loss of all or part of any investment in the ordinary shares of Access Holdings Plc.

The following risk factors do not purport to be an exhaustive list or explanation of all the risk factors involved in investing in Access Holdings Plc and they are not set out in any order of priority. In particular, the Issuer's performance might be affected by changes in market and economic conditions and legal, regulatory, or tax requirements. If such changes were to occur, the price of the shares may decline and investors could lose all or part of their investment. Additionally, there may be further risks of which the Issuer is not aware of or believes to be immaterial which may, in the future, adversely affect the Issuer's business and the market price of its shares. Investment in the shares will involve risks. The shares may not be suitable for all recipients or be appropriate for their circumstances. You should carefully consider, bearing in mind your financial resources, whether investing in Access Holdings Plc is suitable for you. An investment in the shares is only suitable for financially sophisticated investors who can evaluate the merits and risks of such an investment and who have sufficient resources to be able to bear any losses, which may arise (which may be equal to the whole amount invested).

11.1 COUNTRY RISKS

The Issuer's operations are predominantly conducted in Nigeria, where most of its customers also reside. Accordingly, the Issuer's business, the result of operations, and/or financial condition depend significantly on the economic and political conditions prevailing in Nigeria. There is a risk that changes in the macroeconomic and political climate of the country may adversely affect the value of the Issuer's securities.

There are risks related to political instability, security, religious differences, ethnicity and regionalism in Nigeria.

In recent times, Nigeria has witnessed considerable unrest, terrorism, and political and religious conflicts. Divisions based on geography can be magnified by religious differences, particularly between the North, which has a predominantly Muslim population, and the South, which has a predominantly Christian population. These regional affiliations have in the past contributed to and may continue to contribute to political and religious tension. Tribalism has also been a major issue in Nigeria for decades as the country is home to over two hundred and fifty (250) ethnic groups, each with its unique culture and traditions. Insecurity is another challenge that Nigeria is grappling with. Sectarian conflicts in the Middle Belt and Northern Nigeria continue to pose a threat to Nigeria's security.

Additionally, there is a growing sense of discontent, particularly among the youth, who are frustrated with the government's inability to address the country's numerous challenges. This could manifest in the form of protests or violence, which could threaten the country's stability. Until the Federal Government can address the root of the problems that contribute to these challenges (such as poverty, low level of education, religious intolerance, weak enforcement of law and order, and insecurity), these risks are expected to remain prominent in the country.

Macroeconomic risks may result in the decline in Issuer's performance.

With oil revenues comprising a substantial portion of export income, Nigeria's finances are impacted by fluctuations in crude oil prices, a factor largely beyond its control. Another pressing macroeconomic risk is the persistent rise in inflation, which rose to 31.7% in February 2024, driven by surging food and fuel prices. The Issuer is directly affected by the concurrent challenges of elevated inflation and increasing interest rates, which have a direct impact on both its operational and financial activities. Moreover, the continual depreciation of the Naira exposes the Issuer to potential losses arising from its unhedged foreign currency positions.

In the fiscal year 2023, the USD/NGN Foreign Exchange (FX) rate exhibited notable volatility, attributed to heightened demand for forex and supply shortages. The devaluation of the Naira amplifies the cost of meeting the Issuer's foreign currency obligations. Depending on the extent of exposure, the Issuer may be compelled to seek alternative funding avenues to support its balance sheet, with potential implications on shareholder equity, including the potential dilution of shareholdings. Further downgrades to Nigeria's sovereign ratings or outlook could impair the Group's access to funding, increase its costs of capital and weaken its competitive position.

Following the CBN's Monetary Policy Committee's (the "Committee" or the "MPC") meetings on the 25th and 26th of March 2024, the decision was taken to tighten monetary policy, in response to mounting inflationary pressure, by raising MPR from 22.75% to 24.75%. Additionally, the Cash Reserve Ratio (CRR) of commercial banks was retained at 45%, and the liquidity ratio was maintained at 35%. In reaching its decision to raise MPR, the MPC considered (i) the ongoing escalation in headline inflation to 31.70%, an increase of 180bps from the January 2024 inflation results, primarily driven by soaring food prices due to supply shortages with high logistics and distribution costs; and (ii) recent stability observed in the FX market, attributed to the intermittent interventions by the CBN and the payment of verified foreign currency obligations.

The higher interest rate environment risks dampening economic growth in 2024, given that across the banking sector commercial banks have raised their lending rates in line with the increase in MPR. A higher interest rate environment will lead to a reduction in the availability of consumer credit. In such an environment the Group's customers will need to adjust to higher borrowing costs by reducing their expenditures, resulting in lower aggregate demand and contributing to slower economic growth in the short-to-medium term. The Group's growth prospects therefore remain sensitive to the extent the CBN is prepared to tighten monetary policy in the coming years.

11.2 BUSINESS RISKS

These are risks associated with the business activities of companies operating in the financial services sector in Nigeria.

The Issuer may not be successful in implementing its strategic plans.

There can be no assurance that Access Holdings will be able to achieve its major strategic objectives, which may be affected by market conditions, potential legal and regulatory impediments and other factors, beyond its reasonable control. Any failure by the Corporation to achieve its strategic objectives could have a negative impact on the Corporation's ability to meet its future growth plans, as well as on its business, results of operations and/or prospects.

The Issuer's risk management and internal control policies and procedures may leave it exposed to unidentified or unanticipated risks.

The Issuer's risk management techniques and internal control policies and procedures may not be fully effective in mitigating its risk exposure in all market environments or against all types of risk, including risks that are unidentified or unanticipated.

There are risks associated with corporate governance standards in Nigeria.

As a non-operating financial holding company in Nigeria, Access Holdings operates under a highly regulated regime and is subject to the Banks and Other Financial Institutions Act 2020, CBN Prudential Guidelines, circulars and other directives by the CBN. The Issuer is also required to comply with the Nigerian Code of Corporate Governance, propagated by the Federal Ministry of Trade and Investment in January 2019. The Issuer is required to adhere to the CBN's regulations, failing which the Issuer risks incurring regulatory sanctions by the CBN or any other regulators.

Changes in the regulatory landscape of Nigeria's banking system could have a material adverse effect on the Group's performance.

In response to prevailing macroeconomic challenges resulting from external and domestic economic shocks, the CBN issued a circular on 28 March 2024 to review the minimum capital requirement for commercial, merchant, and non-interest banks in Nigeria. Accordingly, the minimum capital requirement for internationally licensed commercial banks was revised upwards from ₦50 billion to ₦500 billion.

Under the new regulatory regime, this capital requirement can only be met by (i) the injection of fresh capital through private placements, rights issues or offers for subscription; (ii) mergers and acquisitions; or (iii) upgrading or downgrading a bank's operational license. Furthermore, the CBN mandated that any addition to a bank's minimum capital shall not be based on shareholders' funds, and additional tier 1 capital shall not be eligible for the purpose of meeting the new requirement. All banks are required to meet the new minimum capital requirements by March 31, 2026.

Following the new minimum capital requirements, the Group instantly found itself in a regulatory capital deficit of ₦248.19 billion, without recourse to its ₦715.13 billion in retained earnings. Whilst the Group remains confident that it would raise equity more than the amount required to meet the new regulatory minimum requirements, these revisions to bank minimum capital requirements by the CBN highlight how susceptible the Group remains to change in regulatory or government policy.

Given that the Group is subject to extensive regulation and supervision in relation to the levels of capital in its business, and how the regulatory capital is calculated, further changes could have a materially adverse effect on the Group's financial results and prospects.

The Group may make acquisitions and/or significantly expand its branch network

The Group may make acquisitions and/or significantly expand its branch network by opening new domestic and foreign branches and by establishing foreign subsidiaries in the future. The Group intends to further expand its network in other high-impact economies in Africa.

The degree of expansion of the Group's activity may put new demands and pressures on its management and systems. For instance, such activities in the past have required and, if this growth continues, will require, a significant allocation of capital and management resources, further development of the Group's financial, internal controls and information technology systems, continued upgrading and streamlining of its risk management systems and additional training and recruitment of management and other key personnel. In addition, expansion into unfamiliar markets could expose the Group to further regulatory and/or market risks. Management of the Group's growth has required significant managerial and operational resources and has increased the overall complexity of the Group's business and such demands will continue to increase with the expansion of the Group's business.

11.3 CREDIT RISKS

The high credit risk of Nigerian borrowers and the lack of a fully developed central credit bureau in Nigeria may adversely affect the Group's loan portfolio.

As a substantial portion of its activities and services are conducted in Nigeria, Access Holdings is subject to the credit risk that Nigerian borrowers may not make payments of principal and interest on loans in a timely manner, if at all. The credit risk of Nigerian borrowers is relatively high when compared to borrowers from developed markets due to the stage of maturity of the Nigerian market and uncertainties inherent in the political, economic, legal and regulatory environment and the higher risk of fraud. Additionally, the current legal and administrative framework for ownership and transfer of land in Nigeria makes it difficult and expensive for landowners to register land rights and therefore it is difficult for them to pledge their land ownership rights as collateral. The risk inherent to Nigerian borrowers creates higher potential losses through Access Bank's loan portfolio which banks in more developed countries may be immune to. Such losses, if material, could have a severe adverse effect on the Corporation's financial condition, liquidity and/or results of operations.

The Group's main banking subsidiary has short-term deposits as its source of funding, which may result in liquidity shortfalls.

The Issuer's major subsidiary, Access Bank Plc, primarily relies on short-term deposits for its funding, which could lead to liquidity shortfalls. Loss of consumer confidence in the Group's business or in banking businesses generally, among other things, could result in unexpectedly high levels of customer deposit withdrawals, which could have a material adverse effect on the Group's results, financial condition and liquidity prospects.

A common characteristic of banks is the disparity between the short maturities of their liabilities and the long-term nature of their assets, known as maturity transformation. This discrepancy exposes the institution to liquidity risk, inherent in banking operations and is exacerbated by various factors, including dependency on specific funding sources, changes in credit ratings, and broader market instabilities such as financial turmoil or natural disasters.

Current liquidity conditions may suffer due to unfavorable market situations and borrowers' inability to meet loan obligations promptly. Unforeseen financial events or significant declines in asset values may render assets held for liquidity purposes illiquid, necessitating the Bank to seek alternative funding avenues for its operations and anticipated growth.

The Bank also faces the risk of sudden and substantial withdrawal of deposits by clients, particularly during circumstances beyond its control, such as severe economic downturns, diminished consumer confidence, distrust in financial institutions, or periods of socioeconomic or political turbulence.

11.4 INTEREST RATE RISKS

The Group's banking operations is subject to interest rate risk in its banking and trading books

The Issuer's major subsidiary, Access Bank Plc, is susceptible to interest rate risk due to the presence of interest-bearing assets and liabilities within its banking portfolio. Interest rate risk is a common challenge encountered by all banks, capable of adversely affecting net interest income. This risk stems from the typical structure of banks, wherein liabilities often possess short maturities while assets tend to be long-term, as discussed earlier. Consequently, when short-term interest rates surge, the cost of funding escalates, thereby compressing banks' profit margins. Fluctuations in interest rates exert influence over earnings, asset valuation, liability management, off-balance sheet exposures, and cash flow dynamics. In addition, the Bank is subject to interest rate risk within its trading book, representing the potential for losses stemming from fluctuations in equity prices, foreign exchange rates, commodity prices, and other market-determined factors.

11.5 INDUSTRY RISKS

The Group faces increased levels of competition in the Nigerian banking and pension industries.

The Nigerian banking and financial services sector is characterised by intense competition, with Access Holdings encountering rivalry from various institutions across different segments and regions of operation. Despite a track record of sustained and profitable expansion, there remains the possibility that the Corporation might struggle to sustain or enhance its market standing. Also, such increased competition may affect the implementation of the Group's strategies and their anticipated outcomes or require an adjustment of the Issuer's current strategies or business model to react to prevailing market conditions and the competitive landscape in Nigeria's banking industry.

The Nigerian entity operates in an environment where regulatory changes by the CBN may materially affect its profitability.

Any forthcoming regulatory adjustments implemented by the Central Bank of Nigeria (CBN) hold the potential to impact the entire Nigerian banking sector significantly and unfavourably, thereby exerting a material adverse influence on the bank's business operations, financial performance, overall financial health, cash flows, and liquidity position.

11.6 CURRENCY RISKS

This Issuer is subject to foreign exchange risk and is affected by changes in the value of the Naira against other currencies.

The CBN has historically sought to maintain the exchange rate between the Naira and the United States Dollar within a narrow band with periodic adjustments. However, in recent times, the Naira has depreciated significantly against the US Dollar due to the removal of the fixed exchange rate regime by the CBN. The Issuer, through its subsidiary Access Bank Plc, is exposed to foreign exchange risk, because of adverse movements in exchange rates, primarily through its loan and deposit portfolios that are denominated in foreign currencies and through acting as an intermediary in foreign exchange transactions between central and commercial banks. Such risk, if material, would have a material adverse effect on the Issuer's financial condition, liquidity and/or results of operations.

11.7 LEGAL RISK

The potential hazards stemming from the Group's contractual commitments

This encompasses the Group's vulnerability to litigation that these contracts may entail. Failure to mitigate these risks could lead to the gradual erosion of the Group's value. Additionally, the Group faces exposure to various risks concerning its permits, licenses, and approvals necessary for its operations. Should any of its subsidiaries fail to renew, obtain, or adhere to these permissions, or if they face suspension, termination, or amended conditions, it could disrupt the operations of that subsidiary and impact the Group's financial standing.

11.8 ENVIRONMENTAL RISKS

These are losses that may arise due to significant natural occurrences in the environment.

The operations of the Issuer are exposed to certain environmental challenges, which include but are not limited to pollution, environmental degradation, global warming, severe flooding and other natural hazards. The nature of environmental risks is that they are often sudden, unpredictable and unforeseeable. While the Issuer feels that it has sufficient process and safety measures in place to prevent and effectively respond to accidents that may occur because of changes in the environment, there is no guarantee that such processes will prevent all accidents, which may impose a variety of liabilities and adversely affect the Issuer's business.

11.9 OPERATIONAL RISKS INHERENT IN BANKING

Operational risk is the potential for loss resulting from inadequate or failed internal processes, people and systems or from the impact of external events, including cyber security, legal risks or failure to comply with legal or regulatory requirements, information technology failures or outages, cyber security breaches, external and internal fraud, and risks concentrated in critical third-party vendors. Therefore, failures in the Group's internal processes and procedures including information technology or equipment failures and other operational risks could have a material adverse effect on the Group's results, financial condition and prospects and could result in reputational damage. Given that the Corporation depends on information technology systems to process large volumes of transactions, and to store and process significant volumes of operating data, any disruptions or failures in these systems could severely impede the Corporation's ability to conduct its operations effectively and efficiently.

11.10 FORCE MAJEURE

The Group's business operations could be adversely affected or disrupted by natural disasters (such as floods, fires, sandstorms or windstorms) or other catastrophic or otherwise disruptive events, including, but not limited to:

- changes to predominant natural weather, hydrologic and climatic patterns;
- major accidents, including chemical or other material environmental contamination;
- acts of terrorism and communal violence;
- construction and repair work carried out by third parties without proper care; and
- Power loss or insufficient power supply.

The unfolding of any of these events, or similar occurrences, holds the potential to disrupt the Group's business operations partially or entirely. It may also escalate the expenses linked with service provision due to factors such as remedial efforts. Additionally, such events may expose the Corporation to liabilities, tarnish its corporate brand and reputation, and impede the smooth functioning of its operations, thereby substantially impacting its financial standing and operational efficiency.

12. USE OF PROCEEDS

The continued growth of Access Holdings Plc and its flagship subsidiary, Access Bank Plc is dependent on a suitable capital base inclusive of robust capital buffers. The impact of the current macroeconomic headwinds and the upcoming full implementation of Basel III, and the revision by the CBN to the minimum paid common equity capital of banks has made it imperative for Access Bank to increase its capital base, with specific focus on additional Common Equity Tier 1 Capital.

Consequently, Access Holdings will primarily deploy most of the net proceeds of the Rights Issue as additional investment in Access Bank Plc in exchange for the issuance of ordinary shares by Access Bank Plc to Access Holdings. The additional investment by Access Holdings in Access Bank will:

- i) enhance Access Bank's capital adequacy, in compliance with the regulatory capital requirements, thereby deepening the Bank's ability to withstand systemic shocks;
- ii) strengthen the fortress balance sheet of the Bank, allowing it to meet the growth needs of the Bank and its banking subsidiaries, in line with the Group's medium-term strategic objectives.

The net issue proceeds estimated at ₦343,091,495,029.73 (after deducting issue costs of ₦7,917,607,987.52 representing 2.26% of the Issue) will be utilized to support growth need for Access Bank Plc as stated below:

To ensure adequate access to shareholders for dissemination of information, documentation and dividends, the Registrar takes the following steps which ultimately reduce the level of unclaimed dividends:

- Publishes a list of its branches, with the names and details of contact people in the national newspapers.
- Ensures effective communication with shareholders.
- Encourages shareholders to mandate their accounts for e-dividends.
- Makes the e-dividend forms readily available for shareholders to access at all its branches.
- Publishes the unclaimed dividend list periodically.

14.19 ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Nigerian Regulatory Environment

In relation to the issuance of securities by banks in Nigeria, the relevant laws and regulations are set out in the Central Bank Act 2007, BOFIA, the ISA, the Nigerian SEC Rules and the CAMA. The principal regulators are the CBN and the Nigerian SEC.

The CBN is charged with regulatory authority over banks and other financial institutions in Nigeria. The Group, being subject to the regulatory oversight of the CBN, is required to procure the approval of the CBN prior to undertaking the Rights Issue. The Nigerian SEC is the apex regulatory authority of the Nigerian capital market and in that capacity regulates all public companies in Nigeria and oversees the issuance of securities to the Nigerian investing public.

Capital Adequacy

Access Holdings must maintain minimum capital requirements under the CBN Guidance Notes on Regulatory Capital 2015, which is the Basel II framework. These requirements are specific to each institution and are decided by the supervisory authority. Various factors are assessed within the CBN

Guidance Notes on Regulatory Capital 2015, such as liquidity risks, concentration risks, residual risks, pension risk, interest rate risk in other operations, additional systemic risk needs, etc. The CBN also calculates the need to hold a capital planning buffer under the Guidance Notes on Regulatory Capital 2015 and under the Guidelines on Regulatory Capital issued in September 2021, which seeks to implement Basel III standards.

On 28 March 2024, the CBN announced an increase in the capital base (sum of paid-up ordinary share capital and share premium) for different categories of banks in Nigeria. The capital base of banks with international authorization was increased to ₦500 billion, and that of national banks was increased to ₦200 billion. Also, the capital base of commercial banks with regional authorization, and merchant banks was increased to ₦50 billion each respectively, while that of non-interest banks with national and regional authorizations was increased to ₦20 billion and ₦10 billion, respectively. The CBN noted that all banks are required to meet the capital requirement within 24 months, commencing from 1 April 2024 and ending on 31 March 2026.

With regard to its capital base, Access Holdings aims to exceed, under normal circumstances, the capital base capital requirement communicated to the Corporation by the CBN.

In the table below, the Group has presented proforma capital adequacy position as at 31 December 2023. The purpose of the proforma capital adequacy metrics set out in the table below is to present the regulatory capital adequacy position of the Group as at 31 December 2023 adjusted for the effect of the net proceeds from the proposed Rights Issue of ₦343.09 billion. Adjusting for the effect of the net proceeds raised from the Rights Issue, the Group's proforma Equity Tier 1 Capital as at 31 December 2023 amounts to ₦1,710,865,000,000, representing an increase of 25.08% in the Group's Tier 1 Equity Capital from ₦1,367,773,000,000.
